End of Quarter Goal: $15,000. Deadline: Midnight on September 30

Larry, the dangers of deadly extreme weather are threatening the safety, homes, and livelihoods of communities across the globe. In the US alone, there have been at least 19 climate-driven extreme weather disasters this year costing over $1 billion each.

And yet, Big Oil continues to rake in record profits and plan for massive expansion that endangers our shared future. If this is as troubling to you as it is to me, I hope you'll donate to our work to combat these catastrophic issues now.

Here at Climate Reality, we're fighting back at the grassroots and grasstops level – because a crisis of this scale requires global solutions at all levels. And we're winning.

But need your help to raise $15,000 before our urgent end-of-quarter deadline to power our crucial fight, end the era of fossil fuels, and build our grassroots movement to meet this critical moment for our planet. Please, Larry, will you rush a gift to Climate Reality right now to help us hit our critical fundraising goal and fight for a truly net zero future?
